

The Greater Kingston Chamber of Commerce invites you to attend the following Member to Member Business Workshop:

Understand the Value of VoIP & How It Can Save Your Business Money

VoIP (Voice over Internet Protocol) provides you with the newest communication avenue to ensure employee productivity, efficiency and mobility—an advantage that delivers dramatic, real value for your business. There are currently two largely separate universes of connections between any two points on earth—the telephone company’s systems and the Internet. VoIP can offer carrier-class communications solutions via a hosted and managed service which provides all the power of IP Voice, Video, Data, Collaboration and Conferencing services in single, converged platform.

Facilitator: Ted Nikolakakos, OneConnect

Channel Sales Manager, of One Connect has been actively involved in the IT industry for over 10 years developing network and telecommunication solutions for the business needs of Fortune 500 companies. During this time, he has held senior sales and marketing roles at Digital Equipment, Compaq Canada and AT&T Canada before recently joining OneConnect Incorporated, the first independent service provider of hosted VoIP solutions in Canada. Mr. Nikolakakos holds an Honours Bachelor of Business Administration Degree from the University of Toronto.
