I want to keep my business secure

If your business accepts credit card payments, PCI compliance isn't optional — it's essential for protecting your customer's data and avoiding costly penalties.

I want to be protected from outages

Your POS machine can still take payments — even if your main Internet connection goes down, thanks to Cellular Backup.

No connection? No Problem!
We'll keep you in business.

I want to know my customers

Your customers expect Wi-Fi, why not collect their information when they connect so you can email them promotions to keep them coming back. It's a win-win!

I don't have an IT team

Easily monitor your network with the CommandWorx app. We put the power in your hands, allowing you to optimize your connection —without needing an IT expert on-site.
